Notes for Agnes Morrison Neilson:

Research Notes - D.E.W.

Information on Agnes was a little difficult to find (without access to the BC Archives) because the family has always spelled her last name as Nelson. The name Neilson came up in a brothers birth registration and it was then possible to find a birth registration for Agnes. This fitted with an extensive family tree that is available in the LDS records submitted by Alexander K. Leslie, 2710 Appleblossom Lane, Holladay, UT 84117. (Microfilm: 1394457 Submission: AF84-002666). Alexander, a grandnephew of Agnes, is deceased but his widow is still living at that address. Notes on the family written by JT Hepburn confirm the link as he had Morrison as Agnes' middle name. Agnes Morrison was her grandmother's maiden name.

She died on 8 Sep 1913 in Libberton, Lanarkshire, Scotland (Coltness Mains farm).

Notes for William Smith:

Per the Notes of J.T. Hepburn

William was a farmer at Coltness Estates of the Houldsworth family for 54 years. Born at Huntfield Farm, Biggar. He was an Elder in the Cambusnethan Old Parish Church, Lanarkshire. Surviving members of his family at his death were 4 sons and 6 daughters.

History of Coltness Estate and Coltness House

The area was originally part of the extensive estates of the Sommervilles of Cambusnethan. Their lands, which stretched to the River Clyde were sold off to pay debts. Coltness was eventually purchased by Sir Walter Stewart in 1653. The 18th century economist James Denham-Steuart lived out his last years here. The estate remained with the Stewarts of Allanton and Coltness until 1840 when trustees sold it to the Houldsworths, a family of newly wealthy industrialists who lived in the imposing Coltness House until the 1950s. The mansion then became a residential school run by Barnardo's until the late 1970s when it was used briefly as a refugee resettlement centre for Vietnamese Boat People. The building lay empty for several years, was badly vandalised and severely damaged in a fire. It was eventually demolished in the early 1980s to make way for the Woodlandsgate estate built by Barratt Homes. The former stables of Coltness House were retained and converted to flats.

8th child of 14 children

At the age of 15, the girls took turns at housekeeping till the next sister turned 15.

1908 - 1912 Housekeeper at Castle Stirling. When mother died came out of service to housekeep the younger children.

Her sister Marion graduated so Jane was recalled.

Married cousin, her Uncle Thomas's third living child, Thomas. On 22 November 1918 married in the Established Church of Scotland.

As a war bride they sailed for Australia on the troop ship. Their honeymoon was separate quarters on the troop ship.

On arrival in Brisbane the compliment of the ship were placed in quarantine for an outbreak of cholera.

Thence proceeded to husbands family at Long Pocket., via rail to Rockhampton thence via ship to Townsville calling in at Bowen, thence rail to Ingham. 3 girls born whist on the cane farm, Calder, Long Pocket. Operation on breast while feeding last child 1932. Hysterectomy 1955.

At Long Pocket they would often play Patience with cards, apparently to fill in the boredom. But when her mother-in-law entered the room she would sit on the cards, as apparently the faith was against playing cards. Apparently Mary Jarvie Smith may have been a bit of a tyrant as well as being a fastidious person. Tells the story of the corn beef disappearing whist cooking on the stove. Eventually caught the kangaroo dog taking the meat out of the boiling pot.

Wanted to go to Scotland to visit father, but was advised by the Authorities, that if she went there was no guarantee of when she would be able to return to her family in Australia.

Apparently authorities were anticipating WWII

She spent her last living years at the Uniting Churches Garden Settlement - H>M Wheeler Garden Settlement, 930 Gympie Road Chermiside Qld., John Wesley Gardens, St Johns Nursing Home, S.W. Jones House, St Lukes Hospital k Ward.

8th child of 14 children
At the age of 15, the girls took turns at housekeeping till the next sister turned 15.
1908 - 1912 Housekeeper at Castle Stirling. When mother died came out of service to housekeep the younger children.
Her sister Marion graduated so Jane was recalled.
Married cousin, her Uncle Thomas's third living child, Thomas. On 22 November 1918 married in the Established Church of Scotland.
As a war bride they sailed for Australia on the troop ship. Their honeymoon was separate quarters on the troop ship.
On arrival in Brisbane the compliment of the ship were placed in quarantine for an outbreak of cholera.
Thence proceeded to husband's family at Long Pocket., via rail to Rockhampton thence via ship to Townsville calling in at Bowen, thence rail to Ingham. 3 girls born whilst on the cane farm, Calder, Long Pocket. Operation on breast while feeding last child 1932. Hysterectomy 1955.
At Long Pocket they would often play Patience with cards, apparently to fill in the boredom. But when her mother-in-law entered the room she would sit on the cards, as apparently the faith was against playing cards. Apparently Mary Jarvie Smith may have been a bit of a tyrant as well as being a fastidious person. Tells the story of the corn beef disappearing whilst cooking on the stove. Eventually caught the kangaroo dog taking the meat out of the boiling pot.
Wanted to go to Scotland to visit father, but was advised by the Authorities, that if she went there was no guarantee of when she would be able to return to her family in Australia.
Apparently authorities were anticipating WWII
She spent her last living years at the Uniting Churches Garden Settlement - H>M Wheeler Garden Settlement, 930 Gympie Road Chermanside Qld., John Wesley Gardens, St Johns Nursing Home, S.W. Jones House, St Lukes Hospital k Ward.
